

Night Division Offers Classes In Photography

Two classes in photography will be offered in the Evening Division of Los Angeles Harbor College in the fall semester starting Sept. 17.

Beginning photography will meet from 6:30 to 9:30 p.m. Tuesdays. Instruction will be given in the use and care of cameras and the developing of film. Advanced Photography, meeting from 6:30 to 9:30 on Thursday nights, will provide instruction in various fields of photography and portraiture. Both classes are acceptable for credit at Long Beach State College.

The instructor will be Ronald J. Sparks who joined the evening staff in February 1961. He is a graduate of the University of Alabama, received his M.A. in art from Los Angeles State College, and is currently working on his Ph.D. at the University of Southern California. He is employed at Los Angeles State College as an Assistant professor of Education (Audio - Visual). He has also been an Assistant Broadcast Director on educational TV at Los Angeles State.

Applications are now being accepted at the college for registration. Last date to file an application is Sept. 7. Students entering the evening division for the first time should apply early so that entrance tests may be completed. Applications are available at the admissions office of the college.

SEAT BELTS

In a nation-wide survey of holiday traffic fatalities, the Greater Los Angeles Chapter of the National Safety Council reports not one single person who lost his life was wearing a seat belt. Seat Belts, a Chapter spokesman said, won't prevent accident but they can prevent injury and death.
